

CALL FOR PAPERS:

The Central Asia Research Network is an open and growing network of young scholars who are currently conducting research in and about Central Asia (www.ca-research-net.org). A lot of research about Central Asia is going on at different Universities in Europe and a lot of young and future scholars express their wish for interdisciplinary and interinstitutional dialogue among Central Asian studies.

The Department of Geography, University of Cologne and CIMERA (www.cimera.org) are organizing the 3rd Conference in Cologne on Borders, Social Spaces and Identities in Central Asia on Nov 15th – 17th.

PhD candidates and other young scholars from Europe and Central Asia are encouraged to send abstracts (300-500 words) in the electronic version to:

Britta.Korth@cimera.org by August 15th.

Please indicate in which of the following panels you want to present a paper or if you have other forms of presentations (documentary etc.).

1. Civil Society and international intervention
2. Education
3. Borders in Central Asia
4. Field Research in Central Asia

We cannot provide any funding for travel and hotel costs, but we are ready to assist Central Asian scholars in identifying sources for funding and will be able to recommend and organize cheap accommodation.

For further information please contact:

Claudia.Stein@uni-koeln.de